

The Nature Conservancy

Protecting nature. Preserving life.™

good news ...

announcing the Table Rocks, Oregon's newly expanded preserve

FULFILLING A PROMISE TO FUTURE GENERATIONS.

Thirty years ago, The Nature Conservancy bought land on Lower Table Rock near Medford creating our first preserve in the Rogue Valley.

Today, we're delighted to announce a crowning achievement. The Conservancy is acquiring 1,710 acres to secure the last remaining private lands on both Upper and Lower Table Rocks.

The Table Rocks loom large as an historic meeting place and ecological landmark. Rising dramatically above the Rogue River, the two mesas are home to rare plants and wildlife that thrive among vernal pools, open grasslands and oak savanna. Thousands of hikers and their families come each year to enjoy the wildflowers, views and tranquility of this special place.

We'd like to say "thank you" to our members, friends and partners for your generous support. You make it possible for us to preserve this inspiring natural landmark and many others.

For fascinating facts and a slide show about the Table Rocks, please visit nature.org/oregon.

Cover photos: Upper Table Rock © Rick McEwan; photo illustration © Jen Newlin Bell/TNC. Above photo: Lower Table Rock © Rick McEwan

(05/09)

The Nature Conservancy
Protecting nature. Preserving life.™

821 SE 14th Avenue
Portland, Oregon 97214

nature.org/oregon
(503) 802-8100

NONPROFIT ORG
U.S. POSTAGE PAID
PORTLAND, OR PERMIT NO. 428

 printed on recycled paper